MINI INTERVIEW: JJ CROMER

Mini Interview with JJ CROMER:

Your childhood ambition:

To be a cryptozoologist.

Something you treasure:

A Japanese teapot, a yokode kyusu. It was a gift from my partner. I make her tea with it every day.

Your worst habit:

Probably my attitude to stress. Or my infrequent showering. Self-doubt? Indecision, probably. Lots, not sure.

The aspect of your work that's most important to you.

The way the next piece nearly always grows from the current piece. My work's weedy that way.

Your first job:

Server at Pizza Hut.

Someone whose work you highly recommend.

Iain M. Banks.
